

Introducing a world first...

100%
Recycled Plastic

The Ubin is made entirely from recycled plastic.

UK based Green Warehouse announced as the winner of 2013 European Best Recycled Plastic Product Award

Manufacturing engineer Will Hayes, through his own small company www.greenwarehouse.co.uk, has designed and manufactured the stylish uBin to encourage responsible recycling of rubbish in offices, schools, universities, hospitals and other typical working environments.

That in itself is commendable enough, but the uBin is actually made from UK sourced post-consumer plastic.... That's old bottles, yoghurt pots, coffee cups etc to you and me!

Over 150 companies from the world of plastic manufacturing submitted products for the EPRO Best Recycled Product 2013 but Will's uBin, already proving successful in the marketplace, was the only UK product to be nominated as one of the three finalists. The others were from Germany and Ireland.

EPRO is a European based association of organisations involved in the recovery and recycling of plastics, and every year they invite manufacturers of products containing plastics from recycling to participate. The main objective of the competition is to raise awareness of the usefulness of recycled plastic... to recognise, encourage and promote new products that utilise this precious resource.

The uBin was announced as the winner of this award at the Identiplast Congress in Paris on Thursday 28th November. It was the only award of the conference event and carries much prestige within the global plastics industry.
